SONY SMARTWATCH 2

FE Approved

While Google Glass looks to redefine wearable technology other companies have been in the game for some time. Sony, like Apple thinks that the future of wearable tech is on the wrist not the eyes, and last year the company released the SmartWatch.

Unfortunately, the first model was decent, but hardly anything to worth shouting about. The original SmartWatch was more a case of pioneering a specific tech but not quite mastering it. Well, now Sony has returned with the SmartWatch 2, and the Japanese giant is coming along nicely in terms of mastering its tech.

The SmartWatch 2 is a massive improvement on the original. For a start Sony has added the basic function that all watches should have, they have made the device waterproof. Elsewhere, many of the features are the same as on the original SmartWatch (answering calls, snapping images, reading emails etc. as a remote device) but are much better on the newer unit.

SAMSUNG GALAXY GEAR SMARTWATCH

FE Approved

As expected, Samsung launched its first real wearable tech product this week in the rather sleek form of the Galaxy Gear smart watch. This nice looking wrist computer comes with 60 partner apps including mail, photo, navigation, and news services, while it is also equipped with a full music player and 4GB of storage. At the moment the Galaxy Gear ($299) can only be paired with the Galaxy Note 3 smartphone and Note 10.1 tablet, but Samsung ensures us that more devices will link up with the watch shortly.

There are some limitations here as this is very much a first gen product, so don't go expecting a full smartphone experience. However, as a second device companion the Galaxy Gear looks to be a fantastic piece of wearable tech.

i'm Watch Made in Italy. Without compromise

FE Approved

i'm Watch is the perfect combination of the most innovative Italian technology and a unique, unmistakable style. High-quality materials and excellent manufacturing standards make it comfortable, durable and attractive to see and to wear. i'm Watch is designed, engineered and built entirely in Italy i'm Watch communicates with your smartphone, showing you, thanks to its clear and bright display, all the messages you receive. If you receive a call, you can see who's calling, wherever you left your smartphone.

Calls, SMS, E-mails and Apps, always available.

i'market, a world of apps to be discovered.

Not your usual store but a treasure trove of hundreds of apps ready to be downloaded and installed on your i'm Watch. Customize as you like and add many new functions: leisure, games, office, useful apps, music; there is no limit to the imagination of the developers who work for your i'm Watch.

Powermat, wireless charger for devices

The transmission of electric power via wireless is no more science-fiction. Today it is possible thanks to the development of the technologies that passed from the experimental labs to the mass production. An example is Powermat, a plane surface that transmits to the device the power. After the devices are charged, Powermat will stop send energy to that device, and in this way energy is not wasted.

Thanks to this technology, can be charged up to 3 devices, of different size, and Powermat will deliver the exact quantity of energy. Magnetic attraction between every receiver and each access point on every mat assures that alignment is precise and the most efficient charging will occur-it'll be as fast as or faster than the original power adapter. Also is available the option of charging the devices via a USB connection, available on every mat.

Is great news and we will forget about tens of types of chargers, for every device, each with its own shape, size, and voltage.

SAMSUNG GALAXY NX ANDROID DIGITAL CAMERA

FE Approved

Samsung has been using its Galaxy range to spice up the camera scene of late by delivering snappers that could quite easily double as a mobile phone. The Samsung Galaxy NX Android Digital Camera is a continuation of this and lets the user do everything from taking photos, editing them, and then sending or sharing them all from the device.

The Galaxy NX is a mirrorless, interchangeable lens camera that runs Android Jelly Bean 4.2.2, while it also comes with a series of interchangeable lenses. In terms of specs, the Galaxy NX ($TBA) reads more like a smartphone than it does a camera.

This cam features a 1.6 GHz Quad-core processor with 3G, 4G, and Wi-Fi connectivity, while it also sports a huge HD touchscreen on the rear. However, this is a camera first and foremost, and what is happening at the business end of the Galaxy NX is also impressive. The cam boasts a 20.3 MP APS-C sensor with an advanced autofocus system, HD capability, and a 3D function. This is modern, new, a trend setter, and it will likely be a huge hit for Samsung.

YikeBike: Carbon – £3,530 from www.leftfieldbikes.com

Tipping the scales at just under 12kg, this is one of the smallest and lightest folding electric bikes around.

At first glance, it may look as if you would need a certain amount of skill to keep upright, but it comes with anti-skid regenerative brakes and is suitable for a vast amount of surfaces.

Plus with indicators and a full LED lighting system, you are sure to be noticed.

Speeds of up to 14mph can be achieved and it's plenty of fun, too.

MEGA MAN PRAM BABY STROLLER

Hey look, we are all modern men right? In this writer's humble opinion there is nothing wrong with a guy walking around with his baby, whether it is in a stroller or one of those strap things that wrap around the body. However, we get that some guys probably feel their manhood shrink when doing so (shame on you fellas), so if you are one such man then you should take a look at the Mega Man-Pram Baby Stroller.

Sure, this is the mid-life crisis of strollers, but we have to admit it looks damn awesome, like some kind of monster truck stroller. Imagine entering the playground and demolishing all before you!

The specs for the Mega Man-Pram Baby Stroller read more like a sports car; this beast features wing mirrors, hydraulic suspension, 20 inch alloy (all-terrain) wheels, oversized brake callipers, anti-stress grips and a headlamp beam for night walks. Like we said, just like a car; and the price is too as the Mega Man will cost $13,000 when it hits the market.

LAZARETH WAZUMA V8F MATTE EDITION

Perhaps the ultimate track day car, the Lazareth Wazuma V8F Matte Edition is also about as close you are going to get to a go-kart in a full sized car. Except this is not a car at all, in fact the Lazareth is an exciting mix of car, quad, and motorcycle and is custom built with the very highest in performance parts.

Basically just an engine and a seat, the Lazareth is seriously fast, but then again that's what you get when you strap a 3.0 liter V8 Ferrari motor on the back of something that weighs a minuscule amount. This is a sticky beast too thanks to Brembo brake calipers attached to four 324mm rotors, 285-30ZR18 slicks in the front and chunkier 315-30ZR18 slicks at the back, and a BMW M3 gearbox. The price for this kind of speed is $250,000.

Tiffany & Co. Wins Injunction, Judgment in Counterfeit Suit

Tiffany & Co. (NYSE: TIF) announced today that the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida has issued a final default judgment and permanent injunction in Tiffany's favor, awarding Tiffany $2,176,000 in aggregate statutory damages against 78 defendants operating infringing websites selling counterfeit Tiffany & Co. jewelry.

The 78 defendants were engaged in the sale of counterfeit Tiffany & Co. goods via websites, which also infringed Tiffany's trademarks, such as salestiffany.net, shoptiffanyco.com, tiffanyandcomall.com, tiffanycooutlet.co.uk and other similar domains intended to confuse and deceive consumers. The judgment further requires that the website operators' infringing domain names be transferred to Tiffany.

Michael Kowalski, the chairman and CEO of Tiffany, said, "We are pleased to announce this judgment. Trademark counterfeiting severely damages brand owners and consumers alike. The way to stop it is to take aggressive action against the counterfeiters and make them pay, civilly. That's what happened in this case which should send a message to anyone trying to sell counterfeit Tiffany merchandise."

Tiffany & Co. operates jewelry stores and manufactures products through its subsidiary corporations. Its principal subsidiary is Tiffany and Company. The Company operates Tiffany & Co. retail stores and boutiques in the Americas, Asia-Pacific, Japan, Europe and the United Arab Emirates and engages in direct selling through Internet, catalogue and business gift operations. Tiffany does not authorize the sale of its merchandise through any third-party websites.

Gold price heading for biggest monthly fall in five months

Metal that became haven in depths of economic crisis could end 2013 lower as investors abandon it for US stocks and shares

Gold is heading for its biggest monthly price fall in five months, as investors abandon the metal in favour of stocks and shares on surging US markets.

Gold has already lost 6% of its value this month, fuelling market speculation that it could end the year worth less than its price at the start of 2013. This would be the first annual fall in value for 13 years and a remarkable turnaround in the status of the metal that investors turned to in the depths of the economic crisis.

In 2011, the precious metal hit highs of $1,895 (£1,159) an ounce, buoyed by its status as a haven for investors and a hedge against inflation. But this year gold has shed a quarter of its value as the global economy continues to strengthen, while the Federal Reserve has indicated it will rein in its $85bn-a-month (£53bn) bondbuying programme in December. Gold is used by investors as a hedging bet against rising inflation, but fears of a reduction in quantitative easing (QE) are damping concerns of higher prices.

Data released this month showed that the US had shrugged off the impact of the three-week government shutdown to create 204,000 jobs in October, stoking expectations that the US central bank will trim its stimulus programme, and helping the Dow Jones to hit record highs.

On Friday, the price of spot gold was down to $1,247 an ounce, having traded below $1,300 all month.

The closure of US markets because of the Thanksgiving holiday has also meant that gold trading has been lighter than usual. "It's that time of the year when people are really reluctant to leave the sidelines. And there has been no catalyst to push prices either way," a Hong Kong-based precious metals trader told Reuters.

"From a positioning standpoint, people have already exhausted on the downside. We could possibly end higher for the year from current levels."

Oil price spikes after reports of state of emergency in Suez

The price of Brent crude leapt after reports that Egypt's army had announced a state of emergency in the Suez and South Sinai provinces. It came after Egyptian state television reported that Islamist gunmen had attacked an airport in the Sinai town of El Arish.

Brent crude had jumped 1.08% or $1.14 to $106.68 a barrel by 12:33 on Friday. Oil market watchers are fearful of a disruption to supply. Ishaq Siddiqi, Market Strategist at ETX Capital noted: "Around 5.0% of seaborne crude passes through the canal."

Petro China buys stake in Iraq field from Exxon

BAGHDAD (AP) — State-owned PetroChina says it has acquired a share in a development project of one of Iraq's most promising oil fields from U.S. major Exxon Mobil.

Thursday's statement says Exxon handed over 25% of the consortium to the Chinese oil giant in the 8.6-billion-barrel West Qurna-1 field in southern Basra region. The financial terms of the deal were not disclosed.

In a 2009 deal with Iraq, Exxon acquired a 60% stake and Royal Dutch Shell 15%, with the rest held by Iraq's Oil Ministry. But in 2011, Exxon infuriated Baghdad by unilaterally signing a deal with the self-ruled Kurdish region to hunt for oil in their region and in disputed territories.

Since then, Exxon has sought to exit the deal so it could focus on the Kurdish region.

India's economy grows faster than expected

India's economic growth rate picked up strongly in the second quarter, according to official figures.

The economy expanded at an annual rate of 4.8% in the July-to-September period, up from 4.4% in the previous quarter.

The acceleration was faster than analysts had been expecting.

Asia's third-largest economy has been weighed down by various factors, such as high inflation, a weak currency and a drop in foreign investment.

This is the fourth quarter in a row that India's annual growth rate has been below the 5% mark, and the previous quarter's rate of 4.4% was the lowest for four years.

Earlier this year, the Indian prime minister's economic advisory council lowered the growth outlook for the current financial year.

It now expects the economy to expand by 5.3% this year, down from its earlier projection of 6.4%.

Growth hurdles

India's economy has been hurt by a range of factors in recent months, including a slowdown in key sectors such as mining and manufacturing.

Slowing growth, coupled with a recovery in developed markets, such as the US, has made India a less attractive option for foreign investors.

Speculation that the US may scale back its key economic stimulus measure has seen investors pull money out of emerging markets, such as India.

This has affected India's currency, which dipped nearly 25% against the US dollar between January and September this year.

Though the rupee has recovered a little since then, it is still down about 13% against the dollar since the start of this year.

That has made imports more expensive and contributed to a high rate of consumer inflation, which was 10.1% in October, up from 9.84% in September.

URGENT WARNING FOR ALL BUYER AND SELLER/BROKERS

This should be the most important information released in the commodity industry, where the severity of this warning should make everyone realize the most serious impact that pertains in Oil and other commodities transactions.

FEM is happy to release this very important message to anyone involved in the commodities industry concerning the new measures with respect to all Buyers and Sellers conducting business` transactions around the globe.

From now on, if an ICPO, LOI, RWA, or BCL is issued and the document is not real, true and/or actually verifiably factual, the Buyer will be able to inform the FBI, ICC, and INTERPOL. In addition, after an FCO is sent to the Buyer, there should be a formal answer to Seller from Buyer in a timely manner in accordance with the agreement between parties.

If there is no response from the Buyer in a timely manner, the buying company will be reported to the FBI, ICC and INTERPOL. If this action is repeated by sellers, they too will also be reported for abuse of the NCND, LOI, ICPO, AND RWA OR BCL, FOR THIS IS NOW A FEDERAL OFFENSE.

It is important to transmit this to all Clients that work with providers that are members of the ICC, FBI, and other international organizations. From this point forward, the international codes will be strictly enforced to exclude all intruders that send or transmit false information. Those who submit a false NCND/IMFPA, LOI, ICPO, RWA or BCL, or FCO, as well as FALSE PROOF OF PRODUCT (POP), FALSE PROOF OF FUNDS (POF) WILL BE CHARGED WITH A CRIME.

This offense went into effect on November 15, 2008 and re-effected in June 2013 after a meeting was held between the Federal Reserve, European Central Bank, Interpol, Federal Bureau of Investigation and Central Intelligence Agency.

The reason for this measurement is to protect the commodities industry which is a fundamental part of the world's economy.

The Non-Circumvention, Non-Disclosure & Working Agreement (NCNDA&IMFPA) we signed and it stated: WARNING:

This should be the most important information released in the commodity industry for years where the severity of this warning should make everyone realize the serious impact that pertains in all oil and other commodities transactions.

Ukraine protests after Yanukovych EU deal rejection

Thousands of people have staged fresh protests in Ukraine's capital, Kiev, at President Viktor Yanukovych's refusal to sign an EU association agreement.

Some 10,000 Demonstrators in Independence Square carried Ukrainian and EU flags late on Friday and chanted "Ukraine is Europe".

Mr Yanukovych, who attended an EU summit in Lithuania on Friday cited pressure from Russia for his decision.

Black Friday shopping in US marred by violence

Americans are flocking to the shops for Black Friday, the bonanza US sales day held the day after Thanksgiving.

But its massive popularity - the term Black Friday has been used more than 2 million times on Twitter in the past 24 hours - has a dark side.

The vast volume of shoppers has led to chaotic scenes and outbreaks of violence. Stampedes and shootings have plagued the day, resulting in four deaths and 56 injuries in the past five years.

China scrambles jets in air zone to monitor US and Japanese planes

China says it has a right to carry out defence and surveillance activities in the zone

China says it scrambled fighter jets to monitor US and Japanese planes as they flew in its newly declared air defence zone in the East China Sea on Friday.

The zone covers territory claimed by China, Japan, Taiwan and South Korea.
